Cub cadet lt1045 deck tension spring

Hello, I took apart my Cub Cadet LTX 1045's deck and in doing so removed the springs, and I cannot remember where they go. If someone could please explain, or maybe us MS-Paint to draw lines where these springs rightfully belong, I would be very thankful. I have attached 3 images, one of the deck, and two of the respective springs. Thanks for your time. This looks like the logical placement to me. I was certain that was one placement for the spring that is below the mower. I'm not sure where the other one goes though. Any ideas? Look for shiny spots that look like something was hooked there. Possible location for the spring could be the S on the rod between the left spindle brake and the idler arm. Then the other end would hook back toward where the engagement cable plastic thing connects in that area. I am having the same problem. Would someone please be so kind as to post a pic of the location of the springs. This was very helpful. Mother and I have a cub cadet and we are pretty good at figuring out mechanical issues...with the replys to SpringGuy12...this was very helpfulland we were able to get the yard mowed. Thank you Some one with an acetylene torch could fix them easily. You might try greasing the spring hooks after you get it fixed to slow down the wear. Bob B. There's OK drawings on the PART diagrams from cubcadet.com - Jay I have a 2007 LT1045 Cub Cadet 46" cut and I'm having trouble with a spring coming off as well. The spring I have coming off is smaller (3-1/4" body length and 4-13/16" overall length) than the one you mentioned and is located on the left side under the belt/pulley cover. If the one your having trouble with is 1/2" in diameter and 7" long, I may be able to help you. Can you by chance help me?
